

Flush out your water system regularly to prevent heat transfer loss.

Freon flows between the inner and outer pipes

Mud can get stuck in these groves, reducing heat transfer

Water flows through the twisted inner pipe (more surface area increases heat transfer)